Suncorp Clear Options Credit Card customers tap into Samsung Pay

Suncorp has announced that customers with a Suncorp Clear Options Credit Card can now access Samsung Pay.

Suncorp Executive General Manager Deposits & Investments, Bruce Rush, said the introduction of Samsung Pay was the first step in Suncorp's plan to enhance its digital payment offering.

"As we move to an increasingly cashless society, we know that our customers need more efficient and sophisticated technology, including digital wallets," Mr Rush said.

"From 27 September, 2017 all customers with a Suncorp Clear Options Credit Card, and compatible Samsung device, will have the option to use Samsung Pay.

"We will continue to invest in our payment technologies and are committed to delivering new services that our customers want and need."

Samsung Pay is a secure and easy-to-use mobile payments service available on compatible Samsung devices, including the recently released Galaxy Note8.

Head of Mobile Payments at Samsung Electronics Australia, Mark Hodgson, said Suncorp and Samsung are committed to improving customer experience through innovation.

"With Samsung Pay, Australians are provided with the convenience, security and choice to undertake everyday tasks when transacting," Mr Hodgson said.

"In addition, Suncorp Clear Options Credit Card cardholders can now benefit from Samsung Pay's unique features, such as our three-layered security system, and can enjoy using the service anywhere you can pay with a contactless credit card."

Access to Samsung Pay only applies to Suncorp Clear Options Credit Card cardholders and does not include Suncorp debit cards.
